Northwest Nazarene University admits students of any race, color, national or ethnic origin.

Please keep this information in your files.

A. General Conditions

A $250 Advanced Tuition Deposit is required of all students.

1. Application Process

The application process for a student to live in a residence hall on the University campus is commenced by (a) the student's acceptance by the University; and (b) the student's submission and the University's approval of the "NNU Terms and Conditions of Occupancy" and the "Residential Application and Contract" (collectively the "Occupancy Agreement"); and (c) the student's payment of the University's tuition deposit. The Occupancy Agreement incorporates the terms of this Student Handbook, and sets forth additional terms and conditions which the student must timely meet before a residence hall room is assigned.

2. Room Assignment

New students are assigned by the University to a particular residence hall room according to room capacity (2, 3 or 4 to a room) and are expected to accommodate the roommate(s) assigned. Room assignments are made according to (a) space available, and (b) the order in which the completed Occupancy Agreement is received. It is to the student's advantage to complete and return both of these items immediately to the University.

3. Term of Occupancy

Residence halls will normally be open to receive students at 1:00 p.m. on the day prior to class registration day each semester and will remain open until 12 noon on the day following the last day of finals in each semester. Residence halls will normally be closed during the breaks between semesters, at Christmas break, at spring break and during the summer.

4. Residence Hall Life and Cleanliness

All students are expected to comply with all policies and procedures of the University, whether listed on the University Web site, within the residence halls, by resident assistants or as otherwise stated.

- All students are expected to comply with all fire drills.
- No pets (except fish) are allowed in or around the residence halls.
- Students may not bring their own beds to the residence halls.

The student agrees to give proper care to his residence hall room and its furnishings and equipment and to make prompt payment to the University for any damages, as determined by the University. Charges for loss of equipment or furniture or damages to or defacement of any area of common use (such as lounges, recreation rooms, halls, bathrooms) may be assessed equally against residents of the area. Furniture, including bunk beds, may not be moved without permission of the resident director of the residence hall.

Residence hall rooms must be maintained appropriately by the student, who is responsible for linens, towels, furniture and related items.

Repairs or alterations to the residence hall rooms are to be made only by University personnel.

Personal property loss by students is not the University's responsibility in any case, including but not limited to cases of fire, theft or similar events.

All students are bound by any policies or procedures, or rules or regulations, enacted by any individual residence hall within the University.

5. University's Right to Examine Residence Hall Rooms

The University reserves the right of entry to any residence hall rooms to make necessary inspections for management, maintenance, safety, sanitation, welfare and conduct issues. In making such entries, the University shall abide by the following policies:

A reasonable effort will be made by the University to locate an occupant of the room prior to entry.

A report of such an entry shall be filed with the Office of Student Development. The report shall include the date, time, purpose of entry and the persons who made the entry. A list of property taken shall accompany the report. The student may obtain a copy of such report upon written request to the Office of Student Development.

No student property shall be confiscated by the University unless such property appears to be in violation of the Spiritual Life Perspective or Lifestyle Expectations. Unless the student's property is determined to be in violation of the Spiritual Life Perspective or Lifestyle Expectations, student property may be held only for evidentiary purposes.

Two University representatives will be involved in any such entry.

6. Food Service

All students (except students living in the Holly or Duplex residence halls) living on campus are required to eat in the University's dining hall. No food should be taken out of the dining hall, except in the case of dining-hall provided to-go boxes and sick trays. Sick trays may be requested from the residence hall's resident assistant.
